

LOCAL MATTER.

This is leap year.
Bub Voris has a new bus.
1884 and don't forget it!

A snow-plow could be used on the next thing in order is leap year parties.

Real Becker's new advertisement this week.

During the year 1883, but few deaths occurred.

Snow fell to the depth of ten inches on Monday night.

Squire John Crawford is reported as dangerously ill.

About all of our saloon men have their ice houses filled.

Logan was extremely fortunate in having no fires last year.

Ed. Jourgensmeier is getting out and shipping ice to Straitsville.

Barney Engle had his snow-plow at work on Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock.

The Logan Union Schools opened on Monday with an average attendance.

The churches were not well attended, last Sabbath, owing to the bad weather.

Wm. Markel, of Salt Creek, left on the 8th for Missouri, Texas, Kansas and Arkansas.

The trial of L. D. Vickers for killing McVeigh began in McArthur on last Tuesday.

The Sons of Veterans gave a supper and ball to night. The festival promises to be enjoyable.

Mr. Ezra Bowers and Hugh Hankison spent a pleasant hour with the Sentinel boys on last Tuesday.

The Logan girls have adopted the following motto for leap year: "If you see what you want ask for it."

Mr. G. W. Downs and son, Turney, of Circleville, spent a few days in Logan, visiting her brother Harlow White.

Services will be held in the Episcopal Chapel next Sunday, at 10:30 a. m., and at 3:45 p. m. All are invited.

Geo. Myers fell into a hole cut in the ice at the Deep Cut on last Tuesday. Later in the day Dole Stedem, John Strider and the old man Nutter broke through.

Geo. Hartman's new hall has been opened and is now ready to be used by parties who wish to run dances, and a splendid place for entertainments.

Mr. Hart Boon of Middletown, Butler county, visited last week among his relatives and his old time friends in Logan and meting with a hearty welcome.

Mr. John Hanel returned a few days ago from a week's visit to his son in Tennessee. He brought his boy a Saw Mill, and left him happy, hopeful and prosperous.

Mr. Zinsmeister, the popular baker occupying the McBride property, after a long and painful illness, died on last Friday. His remains were taken to Zanesville for interment on last Saturday.

The snow-plow done valuable service in clearing the sidewalks on Tuesday and Wednesday. Our citizens on the back streets, however, complain because the street commissioner failed to visit them, and give pedestrians an opportunity to get on Main st.

A little child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jourgensmeier, died on last Saturday from congestion of the lungs. The funeral was on Sunday from the Lutheran Church on Mulberry street. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the public in this hour of sad bereavement.

Mr. Jos. Her, one of the best farmers of Hocking county, has secured a position with Mrs. McCarthy, on her farm. Joe is one of the faithful, square, honest, upright men of our country, and among the best of farmers.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the New York Tea Store. This is a new enterprise in Logan. The gentlemen in charge come to us highly endorsed as men of enterprise, honor and liberality, and we bespeak for them a liberal patronage from the readers of the Sentinel.

A case of scarlet fever has developed in the family of Mr. Geo. Fike on Hunter street. The child was not exposed to the disease, and the case seems to be spontaneous. The Physicians advise parents to be careful lest other children may be exposed to this epidemic more to be dreaded than the small pox.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Becker in this week's Sentinel. He is a first-class Tailor, keeps the best and most fashionable goods, and his prices are down to suit the times. Call in and see his stock and learn his prices before buying elsewhere.

JOB WORK.

The Gazette last week presented some good sense on the subject of job work.

School teachers, expectant bridegrooms, high stepping fellows generally who never hesitate to dead beat a notice from the paper are the most noted in sending to New York and Paris for their printing.

The newspaper offices of this town can furnish at as low a price as any job office in the State, any kind of the usual class of job printing needed by Logan or Hocking citizens. The Sentinel will duplicate any bill our business men may have obtained from anybody, unless the job was furnished on a debt or given as a catch for custom.

The newspapers are Logan enterprises. They help more or less every man in business, encourage and accommodate every individual of our town. The papers are entitled to an even show as against foreign job offices.

Our officials, our professional men, our merchants and manufacturers get many favors from the newspapers. The papers are seeking opportunities to assist our citizens. No votes, no clients, no customers come from remote job offices.

Then, when we can do as good work, can do it as cheap, why not give it to us?

New Year's day, 1884, a large number of friends and relatives assembled at the residence of Esq. Rubie, of Marion township, to celebrate his seventieth anniversary. Each person brought a well-filled basket and in due time two large extension tables were arranged for dinner. They were surrounded the second time. Oh! Jupiter, guide my pen in describing the grandeur of that dinner. The table was filled to its utmost capacity with turkey, chicken, cakes and fruits of various kinds and eatables of every variety. After dinner was over the Esq. requested that singing should be the program and a number of the company engaged in singing some of his favorite hymns. There were a great many friends from a distance. Mr. Stirling from Haydenville and Mrs. Louise Fox, from near Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Scott from Athens, who accompanied by the Organ sang and played several of the Esq.'s most favorite pieces, after which, our aged friend arose and gave an affecting and interesting address, which touched a tender chord in the heart of every one present.

He requested Rev. Carnes to lead in prayer, after which a beautiful hymn was sung and Brother Carnes gave an intelligent address. The company then bade their aged friend a good bye and left for their several homes, feeling that the first day of 1884, was agreeably spent and will not soon be forgotten. The party consisted of over 40 persons. There were all sorts of music and we had a lively time although the day was dreary.

A PARTICIPANT.

The weather the first of this week was the coldest ever experienced in some parts of the country. The cold extended almost over the entire continent.

Tuesday of last week, New Year's day, was warm and rainy. Wednesday it began growing cold and on Saturday morning the thermometer in exposed places showed 20 degrees below zero, a change of 60 degrees in less than 48 hours. The cold wave first developed in Manitoba and swept down the Missouri and Mississippi Valleys to the Gulf, spreading over the country to the Atlantic.

In various places in Illinois the cold was 40 below zero. The Southern States reports colder weather than has been experienced for more than one hundred years. Immense damage was done to stock in the West and to crops in the South.

Our ice men have gathered a beautiful harvest. Ice is from 6 to 10 inches thick and very solid and pure.

On Monday the temperature moderated, and during the night and Tuesday snow fell to the depth of about eighteen inches. The sleighing will be most excellent as soon as the roads are broken.

The Council, on Tuesday evening, passed the ordinance dividing the city into four wards by a unanimous vote. The division is as heretofore named—Main and Market streets being the dividing lines.

At the coming Spring election there will be five Councilmen to elect—one in the first ward, two in the 3d, and two in the 4th.

Two of the present council, citizens of the 2d ward, hold over, viz: Ackers and Hartman, and one, Warner, holds over in the 1st. The wards electing two councilmen will elect one for one and one for two years.

Assessors will also be elected—one for each ward.

The Delinquent List.

It sometimes happens that the public are misled by the names of persons advertised as delinquent with taxes. The name advertised in the paper is not always an assurance that he is the delinquent. It often happens this way: Smith sells property to Jones, Jones neglects to report the sale to the Auditor; Jones fails to pay his tax. The property and not the individual is held for the tax. The land stands in Smith's name, and is so advertised, although Smith does not have a dollar of interest in it. So as the reader may see, it often happens that men's names are published as delinquent when in fact they are not.

Homer L. Wright, Esq., shipped last Monday to Guernsey county, Ohio, three young bulls, raised by him from stock brought here by him and his brother Charley. These calves should have been bought and kept by our own farmers to improve our stock. Our farmers should learn this before it is too late. It costs something, but it pays well. What is Hocking's loss in this instance is Guernsey's gain. The Wrights would sell cheaper to their neighbors in order to improve the cattle they buy and ship; but if our farmers will not buy their improved stock it must be sent to other counties where there are more wide awake stock raisers.

Efficient Mail Service.

The postal service of our Government is the best the world has ever seen. It is not only gigantic and magnificent in its proportions, but it is exact and scrupulously correct in the smallest details.

We cite an instance: A short time ago, in mailing our papers, we directed one to Andy Kern, Oil City, "O." It was a slip of the pen to make the "O." The post office is in Pennsylvania. The paper went to the Logan P. O., thence sent to Cincinnati, the general distributing office. Two days afterwards the paper thus addressed came back in an envelope from Cincinnati, stating "no such P. O. in Ohio, try Pa."

We name this instance to show the care and promptness of the Post Office service in its work of detail.

Our Postmaster, Mr. Case, is a good type of the men in this important service. He is careful, exact and prompt. Misdirected letters, or mail matter illegibly directed, has his closest attention, and it is a matter of general repute that no man in the country stands higher for efficient discharge of duty.

When we make war upon him it is his policies we fight, not the individual nor the official, and while we must have a Republican Postmaster, we believe we express a public sentiment, at least a Democratic sentiment, that Mr. Case as an accommodating gentleman and praiseworthy official, is the most popular Postmaster Logan has ever possessed.

THE BIG SNOW.

We are now enjoying the biggest snow within the recollection of the large majority of our citizens. During the latter part of last week about 2 inches of snow fell. On Monday night the weather moderated and snow fell to the depth of 9 or ten inches. It snowed all day Tuesday, and the total depth is not less than 18 inches. It is the deepest snow we ever saw, and reminds us of the winter stories told by our forefathers in the pioneer times.

Nearing the End.

A Columbus telegram of the 4th inst., says:

Terrell, the Hocking county murderer of the three members of the Welden family, in 1877, who has been confined in the same asylum at the penitentiary for some time, is now in the prison hospital and nearing his end. He has not eaten anything for a week, and is slowly wasting away. He always lies half uncovered and a listless state.

Bub Voris, the enterprising livery man, has bought an elegant new bus for the accommodation of his patrons, and hereafter will conduct the livery business for himself. Bub is obliging and liberal. He understands the livery business and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage from the public.

The Boss Hog—S. S. Stowe, of Muskingum, has a thoroughbred Jersey Red Hog that takes the ribbons for big hog. His age is now 20 months and dimensions as follows: Length 81.3 inches, girth 6 ft. 4 in., or 7 feet 4 in. around the belly; stands 3 feet 6 in., and is two feet across the back, with only one inch of day light under him. Mr. Stowe books him for 1200 pounds gross February 1st, and says nothing less than 7 cents will let him out. So he is pushing to see how much hog he can make, rather than how much money—Marietta Register.

Redistricting.

Senator Van Cleef introduced a bill in the Legislature yesterday providing for a redistricting of the State, giving the Democrats sixteen and the Republicans five districts.

The spirit of the measure is correct. We hope the Legislature will redistrict the State, and make as many districts Democratic as possible. It is not so much the example of the Republicans who have done so in the interests of their party, as it is a matter of right and justice to the Democracy that we being the victors, are entitled to the spoils.

Van Cleef's bill puts Hocking in the 15th District, composed of the counties of Meigs, Athens, Hocking, Morgan, Washington, and Monroe. It is a Democratic District, but one to suit us better would be, Franklin, Fairfield, Hocking and Athens, a Hocking Valley District.

Train Load of Stock Frozen to Death.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The extreme cold weather yesterday and last night resulted in all passenger and freight trains. The mails from all parts of the country were delayed. Eleven miles southwest of the stock yards, on the Wabash road, stands a stock train of 20 cars of famishing, freezing live stock. The train was snowed under and stalled Tuesday night, since when, it is believed, the animals have been without food or water. A rescuing party drove within three miles of the belated train, then abandoned their sleighs and walked the remainder of the distance. Though several engines have been sent down, the train could not be reached, and the party returned, several of whom were badly frost-bitten. It is believed that the stock perished to-day.

At 1 p. m. the thermometer stood at 15 deg. below.

LATER.—A rescuing party succeeded in reaching the train on the Wabash road late this afternoon. On 20 cars two of three were of hogs, the rest of cattle. Some cattle were found frozen, some partly frozen and were immediately killed. The exact number thus killed is not ascertained. The remainder of the cattle were fed and cared for by the railroad company. The hogs were not suffering badly, as there happened to be a car of corn next to them, which the company used. No hogs were frozen.

We are glad to know that Gov. Hoody has appointed Mr. Dan McConnell, of Steubenville, as his Private Secretary. Mr. McConnell is one of the foremost Democrats of Eastern Ohio. He is a man of unblemished character. He is a gentleman in every sense of the word. He is a man of sense and honor and will do credit to the position, to the Hoody administration, and to the Democratic party.

Lost.—A gold pen and holder on Tuesday, Jan. 1st. Also, a swivel watch chain last Thursday afternoon. The finder will be liberally rewarded by returning the same to W. F. Eissels or at this office.

Converse Converse.

About Raising the Duty on Wool.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Congressman Converse has returned here. He says the subject of most interest in Ohio is the wool tariff, and that mass meetings and conventions are being held all over the state in behalf of the restoration of the tariff. "That's what our people most want," says Mr. Converse, "There are 45,000 wool-growers in the state, and they can control its politics. People may talk as they please, but it was the wool interest that carried the state for us last year, and if we do them justice they will help us carry it again." He says the Democrats will have the hardest struggle next year they have ever fought, and with the chances against them, unless they abandon free trade. "No party can succeed in this country now," he continued, "on free trade platform. Another generation may be educated up to it, but now it is death to any party. There are 4,000,000 people interested either directly or indirectly in manufactures, and they will not tolerate free trade. The laboring classes are organized, and will go against us solidly if we declare for free trade. Why, my district has 4,000 Democratic majority, and yet no Democratic free trader can be elected in it. The platform adopted by the Ohio convention last year suits us, and if the National convention will plant it self upon that, we can win, but if we attempt to raise a free trade issue it will beat us."

MARRIED.

On the 20th ult., at the home of the bride in Fairfield co., by Rev. Ira M. Brashaus, Mr. J. M. Pierce, of Hocking and Miss Caroline McDonald.

At the residence of J. H. Kane, Buenavista, on the 30th ult., by the same, Mr. Christian Judy of Middleburg, and Miss Sevilla Deffenback, of Laurelvile.

McManigal has put a coffee roaster in his grocery and will dish up fresh roasted coffee at reasonable rates. Don't forget to give him a call and try his NONE SUCH baking powder. It is better and cheaper than the ROYAL, also fresh roasted pea nuts.

Bro. McMillan, of the Marietta Times is visiting friends in the City to-day.

Enterprise Items.

Enterprise, O., Jan. 8th, 1884. EDITOR SENTINEL.—A few more items from this place. There was an oyster supper at the residence of John Rish on New Year's night. Quite a number of young folks were present, and an exceedingly good time was had. John Rish and Jake Zeller taking the lead at the table.

Mr. Barney Kline, of this place, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Van Wert county during the holidays, returned on Wednesday evening.

The Postage Stamp, a Republican paper published at Millville, was out last week, the first time since the October election. We think another Prohibition and Democratic victory will cancel the so-called "Postage Stamp."

We learn that Mr. S. S. Fetherolf, gate keeper of the Salt Creek Valley Turnpike, has changed his residence. He is still dealing in poultry, Plymouth Rock being his favorite stock.

YOUNG TEACHER.

Panoramic View of Logan.

The enterprising and energetic firm of Ruger and Stoner, of Madison, Wisconsin, are still ahead, and to the front. They have taken a pen sketch of our beautiful and thriving city, from which they intend to publish a fine, lithographic, panoramic picture, for the benefit of our town and the citizens at large. We saw the pen sketch, and after looking it over, we think it very correct also we had the pleasure of inspecting some finished pictures of other cities in Ohio, and they are very excellent in design and finish. Mr. Mason, agent, representing the firm is here soliciting subscriptions for the picture, and if well encouraged, will do, as he says, his level best to get us a good view. This is, we think, the first time that any attempt has been made towards getting up a picture of our city, and we sincerely hope our citizens will not be outdone by other places, but bestow upon the work of art and scheme of enterprise, a liberal subscription list. This picture locates every house and everything about the city in its proper place, besides being an excellent reference and directory, is useful, instructive and one of the best advertising channels we can use for our city and its business interests, and is a picture that will be highly prized by the children born here, which in after years money could not purchase from them. In a few years this picture will be of great value to the older heads, and will show how the place has grown and prospered since the year 1834. Let us all try and secure a picture of our town.
